When the shareholders' meeting deliberates on major matters affecting the interests of small and medium-sized investors, separate votes shall be counted for small and medium-sized investors. The results of separate votes shall be disclosed in a timely manner.

The Company's shares held by the Company have no voting rights, and such shares are not included in the total number of voting shares attending the shareholders' meeting.

In accordance with applicable laws and regulations and the Hong Kong Listing Rules of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong, if any shareholder is required to waive his or her voting rights on a resolution or to restrict any shareholder from voting only in favor (or against) a resolution, the number of votes cast by such shareholder or his or her representative in violation of the relevant provisions or restrictions shall not be counted as part of the total number of voting shares.

If a shareholder purchases voting shares of the Company in violation of Article 63, Paragraphs 1 and 2 of the Securities Law, the portion exceeding the specified ratio shall not exercise voting rights for 36 months after the purchase and shall not be counted towards the total number of voting shares present at the shareholders' meeting. If there are other provisions in the securities regulatory rules of the stock listing location, those provisions shall apply.

The Board of Directors, independent Directors, and shareholders holding more than 1% of the voting shares, or investor protection institutions established in accordance with laws, administrative regulations, or the provisions of the China Securities Regulatory Commission, may solicit shareholder voting rights. When soliciting shareholder voting rights, they must fully disclose specific voting intentions and other information to the solicited parties. It is prohibited to solicit shareholder voting rights through paid or disguisedly paid means. Except for statutory conditions, the Company shall not impose a minimum shareholding ratio limit on the solicitation of voting rights. If there are other provisions in the securities regulatory rules of the stock listing location, those provisions shall apply.

Article 85 When the Shareholders' meeting deliberates on related party transactions, the associated shareholders shall not participate in voting, and the number of voting shares represented by them shall not be included in the total number of valid votes; the resolution of the shareholders' meeting shall state the voting situation of non-associated shareholders.

Resolutions on related-party transactions made by the shareholders' meeting must be passed by more than half of the voting rights held by non-affiliated shareholders present at the meeting to be valid; for matters involving related-party transactions that require special resolution as stipulated in the Articles of Association, they must be passed by more than two-thirds of the voting rights held by non-affiliated shareholders present at the meeting to be valid.

Article 86 Except in special circumstances such as a crisis of the Company, the Company shall not enter into any contract that transfers the management of all or key business to any person other than Directors and senior management, unless approved by a special resolution of the shareholders' meeting.

Article 87 The list of director candidates shall be submitted to the shareholders' meeting for voting by way of proposal.

Save for the election of a single director, cumulative voting shall be implemented in the election of directors at a shareholders' meeting.

Where directors are elected at a shareholders' meeting, separate voting shall be conducted for independent directors and non-independent directors.

Accumulative voting system referred to in the preceding paragraph means a system whereby each share, at voting to elect directors at a shareholders' meeting, carries the number of voting rights equivalent to the number of the directors to be elected, and a shareholder may concentrate his voting rights. The Board shall inform the shareholders the resume and general information of the candidates for directors.

The procedures for the nomination, election, and removal of Company directors are detailed in the rules of procedure for shareholders' meetings.

Candidates for employee representative directors on the Board shall be democratically elected by the Company's employees.

Article 88 Other than the accumulative voting system, the shareholders' meeting will vote on all motions one by one, and for the different motions on the same matter, voting will be proceeded according to the order of the times these motions are put forward. Other than special reasons such as force majeure which results in the interruption of the meeting or makes it impossible to come to resolution, the shareholders' meeting shall not shelve the motions or withhold the voting on them.

Article 89 When a proposal is under consideration at a shareholders' meeting, it shall not be amended. Otherwise, the relevant amendment shall be treated as a new proposal and shall not be voted upon at the same meeting.

Article 90 The same voting right can only be exercised on-site, online or by other means of voting. If the same voting right is exercised repeatedly, the result of the first vote shall prevail.

Article 91 The shareholders will vote by way of a poll, with votes recorded by name.

Article 92 Before a vote is taken on a proposal at a shareholders' meeting, two shareholder representatives shall be appointed to participate in the vote counting and scrutiny of the voting. Where the matter under consideration is related to a shareholder, such shareholder and its proxy shall not participate in the vote counting or scrutiny of the voting.

When a vote is taken on a proposal at a shareholders' meeting, the counting and scrutiny of the votes shall be conducted jointly by the legal advisor and a shareholders' representative, and the result of the vote shall be announced on the spot. The resolution of the result of the vote shall be recorded in the minutes of the meeting.

Shareholders of the Company or their proxies who vote through the Internet or other means have the right to check their voting results through the corresponding voting system.

Article 93 The closing time of the shareholders' meeting shall not be earlier than the Internet or other methods, and the chairperson of the meeting shall announce the voting situation and result of each proposal, and announce if the proposals are passed or not based on the voting results.

Prior to the official announcement of the voting results, the companies, tellers, scrutineers, shareholders, network service providers and other parties involved in the shareholders' meeting site, the Internet and other voting methods shall have the obligation to keep the voting confidential.

Article 94 Shareholders present at the shareholders' meeting shall, with respect to proposals submitted for voting, indicate one of the following opinions: for, against, or abstain.

Ballots that are left blank, filled out incorrectly, illegible, or not cast shall be deemed as the voter having abstained from exercising voting rights. The voting rights represented by the shares held by such voter shall be counted as "abstain".

Article 95 If the presiding person has any doubt regarding the outcome of a resolution submitted for voting, he/she may organize a count of the votes cast. If the presiding person does not count, any shareholder or proxy present at the meeting who has an objection to the result announced by the presiding person shall have the right to demand a vote count immediately after the announcement of the voting result, and the presiding person shall immediately organize the vote count.

Article 96 A shareholders' meeting resolution shall be announced forthwith. The announcement shall set out the number of shareholders and proxies present, the total number of voting shares held and their proportion to the total number of voting shares of the company, the voting process, the voting results of each proposal, and the detailed contents of all resolutions passed.

Article 97 Where a proposal is not passed or where the current shareholders' meeting changes the resolution of the previous shareholders' meeting, a special notice shall be made in the announcement of the resolution.

Article 98 Where a proposal concerning the election of Directors is passed by the shareholders' meeting, the newly elected Director(s) shall assume office upon the adoption of the resolution, unless otherwise specified in the resolution of the shareholders' meeting.

Article 99 Where a proposal concerning the distribution of cash dividends, bonus issues, or capitalisation of capital reserve is passed by the shareholders' meeting, the Company shall implement the specific plan within 2 months after the shareholders' meeting. If the specific plan cannot be implemented within 2 months due to the requirements of applicable laws, regulations, or the securities regulatory rules of the place where the Company's shares are listed, the implementation date may be adjusted accordingly based on such requirements and the actual circumstances.

- (V) Intervals for the Company's profit distribution: Dividends are generally distributed annually. The Board of the Company may also propose interim dividend distributions based on the Company's capital requirements.

When formulating a specific cash dividend plan, the Board shall carefully study and demonstrate the timing, conditions, minimum proportion, adjustment conditions, and decision-making procedure requirements for the Company's cash dividends. If
